MAUREEN WILLIAMS . ALLUDE 20 NOV - 14 DEC 2013

Sabbia Gallery is pleased to present 'Allude', by the internationally acclaimed Australian glass artist Maureen Williams. Maureen is world renowned for her inventive techniques and has achieved significant artistic success with her glass sculptures and forms over the last twenty three years. She is as much a painter as a glass artist. Maureen expresses herself through abstract imagery, and combines these extraordinary paintings with traditional glass blowing, and most recently in casting.

Maureen says of her work:

Familiar objects and formats are used to allude to references from the land and how we are placed within this framework. As we travel through our lives and the land, relationships form - between ourselves, the land, of us in the land, and how we have patterned and changed it, co-exist with and love the essence of it.

NEWS

Anne-Marie Jackson, graduating Honors student at the National Art School has been awarded the annual Sabbia Gallery Exhibition Award for 2013. Anne-Marie's art practice focuses on the relationship of objects to their surrounding environment. Her wheel thrown vessels are incredibly refined and we look forward to her exhibition at Sabbia Gallery in 2015.

Greg Daly opens up his private collection in 'The Pots I Kept: 40 years of making' at the Cowra Regional Art Gallery. The collection covers the development of forms, platters, vases and bowls. These pots are used as a canvas for Daly's distinctive glazes and surfaces. The exhibition is an incredible display of a dedicated and extremely talented ceramic maker and runs from 21 December 2013 to 2 February 2014.
